Community activities

My practice is in the same community where my family and I live. So, it is very important that I remain active in the community. I've known some of my patients for years before they visited my office.

I have coached both little league baseball and soccer programs for the last eight years, and my practice provided volunteer medical services. These activities introduced us to many local families and young athletes in the community - this in turn allowed me to gain a better understanding of our community's medical needs. We expanded the scope of our practice to include specialized care for the elderly as well as for our athletes. We also like to give back to a community that has given so much to us. Therefore, we support and take an active role in the following local programs: PAC Sports, high school physical examinations, Educational charities, and much more.
